A wonderful new cooling and ventilated system has just been installed in the Nogales Theatre, under the personal direction of Manager Frank Diamos, who always provides patrons of his handsome movie play house with the best, regardless of expense. A large suction fan has been built at the rear of the theatre and an airplane propeller cools the air as it is forced through the building. The wonderful improvement is greatly appreciated by patrons of the Nogales theatre.

Yesterday Fred. H. Hilliker, of the Sonora Valley Land Company, accompanied by a number of land investors who had visited Mr. Hilliker's splendid land holdings in Sonora, with a view of becoming interested financially, departed for Los Angeles, loud in their praise of the wonderful country south of the international border, and the courteous manner in which they everywhere were treated by the hospitable people of the state of Sonora. Wise people know that now is the time to make investments in Sonora, the Mexican state of glorious opportunities, situated south of Arizona.

Under the auspices of the Elks Lodge of Nogales, the funeral of the late L. M. Raines, proprietor of the Nogales Steam Laundry, who died suddenly on the morning of July 14th, from heart trouble, was held last Sunday morning, from the family home, interment being in the Nogales cemetery. Both at the residence and at the grave, the beautiful and impressive ceremony of the Elks was read in the presence of a large number of members of the order Maurice Raines loved so well, and friends and acquaintances, who were present to pay their last respects to one who will be missed.

Manuel Martinez and Placido Silvas, convicted Ruby murderers, are now in the state penitentiary at Florence, where they were taken last Thursday by Sheriff Harry J. Saxon, who motored across country with his prisoners. Handcuffed together, the prisoners were placed on the jump seats of an automobile driven by Herbert Johnson. Seated behind the murderers of Postmaster and Mrs. Pearson, were Sheriff Saxon and R. Q. Leatherman, and in the front seat with the driver was Harold Brown, member of the Nogales police force. The sheriff's party left Nogales at 8 o'clock in the morning and arrived at the prison at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Captain Charles E. Hardy, veteran railroader, and former U. S. collector of customs, who many years ago built railroads, removed mountains and dug tunnels, for railway companies in Kentucky, and other southern states, is in charge of the work of removing the Earl D. Ham-mack hill, just south of the post office, on Nelson avenue. The rock, many thousands of yards, after being run through the mammoth crusher now in course of erection by Contractor Bostwick, who has the contract for furnishing material for the new state highway being built north of Nogales, on the Nogales Tucson road. It has been a long time since Captain Hardy cast his eagle eye over a bunch of hard rock hokies, but he's "on to" his job and when the smoke clears away after each blast, there'll be no fatalities to report.

EDITORIAL.

Silvas and Martinez, bandits, have been captured!

Too much credit cannot be given Harry Saxon and the members of the posse who relentlessly tracked down the convicted murderers of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Pearson of Ruby, Arizona, who escaped Thursday night when the automobile driven by Sheriff George J. White was wrecked, killing White instantly and injuring Deputy Sheriff Leonard Smith so seriously that he died later.

The men composing the posse have been in the hills since the escape and they "got their men." It was a real, Western-style man-hunt.

The trailers endured as many hardships as the criminals, but this did not daunt the Western spirit and no stunt was loosened, no stone was left unturned until the escaped criminals were behind the bars of the Santa Cruz county jail.

Trailers were found and lost again. Acres of desert country were closely scrutinized until a slight lead was found and the trail was resumed again.

Members of the posse did not sleep for several days and they ate but meagerly, inasmuch as but very little food could be carried.

During the five day trail several hard storms were encountered but the brave men kept on battling the elements and finally succeeded in bringing the criminals to the bar of justice.

Since the lamentable accident and escape, bands of men have been scouring the entire country. Citizens joined hands with officers and searching parties were dispatched in every direction.

Time and time again the capture was doubtful but never at anytime did any member of the posse lose hope and they stuck to the trail until the men were found.

This is the spirit of the West! It is a commendable spirit!—Herald.

STATE LAND SOLD.

In front of the Santa Cruz county court house, last Wednesday forenoon, state land situated in the Patagonia and Canille districts, were sold pursuant to published notice, by State Land Commissioner Rudolph Kuchler, who was assisted by T. L. Macleod, chief engineer of the land department, and C. E. Ashley, sales agent for the land department.

The land which is adaptable for grazing purposes, brought in the neighborhood of $16,000, which amount will be devoted to the upkeep of public schools and state institutions.

Following are the buyers and the amount of acreage purchased: Mrs. Minnie Ashburn, 616 acres; Hulda Ashburn, 630; Alex Mills, 560; Mrs. Mary Wilkinson, 589; James Wilkinson, 642; Guy Perry, 232; James L. Finley, 31; Mrs. Maria G. Harte, 633 and C. E. Wiswell, 484 acres.

"WONDERLAND TOPICS."

The automobile club of Arizona has just issued another addition of its official publication "Wonderland Topics." It contains numerous illustrations and excellent articles on delightful vacation spots and scenic wonders of the state, and is intended to induce the Arizonian who plans to spend his vacation elsewhere, to do so in this state instead. Besides, it will assist those who are planning vacations in Arizona in selecting a desirable place.

Any motorist should be interested in reading it and the club announces anyone can secure a copy from the local representative of the club, or by writing the state headquarters at Phoenix.

SHERIFF SAXON.

Politics aside, every fair minded citizen of Santa Cruz county, commends the action of the Board of Supervisors in appointing Harry J. Saxon as sheriff, to fill out the unexpired term of the late George J. White, who came to his tragic death while performing his official duty. No man, be he Democrat or Republican, is more qualified to fill the important, responsible office of sheriff, than Harry Saxon. In the conduct of his office, Sheriff Saxon will do his duty without fear or favor, and in the selection of his assistants, none but men "tried and not found wanting," will be on guard, both at the county jail and in the field. More, taxpayers of Santa Cruz county, cannot in fairness, ask.
